MGES Partners with EL Education: elschools.org

Meadow Glen Elementary is in its third year of a partnership with EL Education. Our partnership is based on a three-dimensional vision of student achievement that includes mastery of knowledge and skills, character, and high quality work. School leaders continue to build teacher capacity and shared leadership by setting clear expectations and professional development to promote, support, and develop quality teachers and engage families in learning the EL culture.

Implementation Priorities for Year Three with EL Education

- Enhancing Curriculum in English Language Arts
- Small Group Instruction through Skills Block, All Block and Learning Labs
- Monthly Grade Level Community/Celebration Meetings
- Monthly Faculty Community/Celebration Meetings
- Student Led Conferences – Grade 3
- Student Led Conferences with 5th Grade End of Year Passages
- Planning Effective Lessons and Assessments
- Weekly Data Review Meetings with Grade Level Teachers
- Deepening use of Learning Targets and Checking for Understanding Strategies
- Fostering Habits of Scholarship (Respect, Responsibility, Perseverance, Craftsmanship)
- Student Habit of Scholarship Tracking
- Equity Work
- Scaffolding towards High Quality Products
- Models, Critique and Descriptive Feedback
- Creating a Space for MGES Families to Learn (3 Family Academic Nights)

Summary Statement from the mid-year review from EL Education:

“Together is better than one,” is the motto this year at Meadow Glen Elementary and it seems to live throughout the building. There is a strong climate of collaboration that is felt by all stakeholders: teachers, leaders and students. There has been tremendous growth in the three dimensions of student achievement, habits of scholarship and articulating what they mean for students of all grade levels. The school’s journey in the core practices is powerful and deeply present everywhere. However, the conversation of the Grades 3-5 Student Focus Group seemed to sum up the power of the journey and its impact on students. The students engaged in a conversation about race and equity with ease and understanding. It was truly amazing!” Dee Duncan, EL Education and MGES School Designer

MGES Student Quote from Mid Year Review: “We are currently learning about Jackie Robinson. He was a good baseball player, but he was more. He broke the color barrier in sports. So many people before him did not get to experience some sports because of race and that is not right. If Jackie did not do this - we might still be segregated. Four of us would not be around this table because we would be at a different school. People need to realize that.”
Jaden Riley, 5th Grade Student

MGES Teacher of the Year: Rebecca Goodson, 3rd Grade Teacher and Top 10 Finalist for District Teacher of the Year
